CATALOGUE

OF . . .

Architectural, Scientific, Industrial and Technical Books.

PUBLISHED, IMPORTED AND SOLD BY

WILLIAM T. COMSTOCK, 23 Warren St., New York.

ALL BOOKS IN THIS CATALOGUE SENT BY MAIL OR EXPRESS ON RECEIPT OF PRICE.

BEST WAYS TO REMIT MONEY.

First—Checks or Drafts on New York Banks, payable to the order of WILLIAM T. COMSTOCK.

Second—Money orders can be obtained at nearly all the post offices, and are perfectly safe for sums of fifty dollars or less.

Third—Registered Letters are a safe way of sending small sums of money, when money order or check cannot be had. Procure and place stamps on your letter, for both postage and registry fee; put in the money and seal the letter in the presence of the postmaster, and take his receipt. Letters sent thus are at our risk.

Write all Letters Plainly, giving Post Office, County and State, and your name signed at the bottom.

Address Letters Carefully to WILLIAM T. COMSTOCK, 23 Warren St., New York.

Remittances must accompany all orders. C. O. D.'s cannot be sent unless accompanied by money sufficient to cover express charges both ways

Should there be any delay in receiving goods ordered from me, write at once, stating how your order was sent, and, if accompanied by remittance, whether it was by draft, money order or registered letter. If I am delayed in filling any of your orders I will notify you at once and acknowledge remittance. When goods are shipped I always notify by card or letter, stating how they are sent.

Where books are marked NET, unless postage is stated send 10 per cent extra for postage.

Thorne, Director of Drawing in the Franklin Institute. Fully illustrated. Cloth. Junior and Intermediate Courses, each $1.00 Senior Course $1.75

Drawing—Perspective.

Collins.—Perspective; or, the Art of Drawing What One Sees.

Explained and adapted to the use of those sketching from Nature. By W. H. Collins, R.E., F.R.A.S. Crown 8vo, with 37 Woodcuts $1.75

Cone.—Perspective.

By Ada Cone. A series of Practical Lessons beginning with Elementary Principles and carrying the Student through a thorough Course in Perspective. 33 illustrations. One 12mo. volume, cloth. Price $1.00

Cooper.—Linear Perspective.

By Edward T. Cooper, Archt. and C. E. Adapted for Colleges, Schools and Teachers, and for self-instruction, including examples in parallel, angular and oblique perspective, 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ x10 $\frac{1}{2}$; buckram; price \$10.00

Davidson.—Practical Perspective.

Containing Perspective Projection of Simple Points, Lines, Planes and Rectangular Solids; Polygons, Prisms, Pyramids; Circles, Cylinders and Arches, etc. With Thirty-six double page Illustrations. By E. A. Davidson. Extra fcap. 8vo. Cloth $1.00

Hatton.—Perspective for Art Students.

With many diagrams and figures. By Richard G. Hatton. Cloth; Illustrated, net $2.00

Hill.—Text-Book on Shades and Shadows and Perspective.

By John E. Hill, Associate Professor of Engineering, Brown University. Twelve folding plates. 8vo, cloth $2.00

Keller.—Elementary Perspective.

Explained and Applied to Familiar Objects, for the Use of Schools and Beginners in the Art of Drawing. With 17 full-page illustrations. By M. J. Keller, School of Design, University of Cincinnati. 8vo, 47 pages. Cloth. $1.00

Krauss.—Linear Perspective, Self-Taught.

A practical book giving the principles and practice of linear perspective, for Architects, Civil and Mechanical Engineers, Art Designers, Engravers and Draftsmen engaged in all the industrial arts. By Herman T. C. Kraus, C. E. With 14 pages of practical examples and explanatory text. Oblong. Cloth. Price $2.50

Lawrence.—Principles of Architectural Perspective.

This work gives a short, but comprehensive course in perspective, and the author has made the text as concise as possible, consistent with clear and complete explanation. By W. H. Lawrence, Assoc. Professor of Architecture Mass. Inst. Technology. Illustrated with 14 folding plates; second edition; revised; cloth; price $2.50

Longfellow.—Applied Perspective.

By W. P. P. Longfellow. For Architects and Painters. The book contains 33 full-page illustrations and 75 text illustrations. Is of great practical value to those for whom it is written. 4to; net, postage extra $3.00

Middleton.—The Principles of Architectural Perspective.

Prepared chiefly for the use of students, with chapters on Isometric drawing, and the preparation of finished perspective. Illustrated with 51 diagrams and 8 drawings by various architects. By G. A. T. Middleton, A. R. I. B. A. Cloth. Price, net (add for postage 8 cents) $1.00

Miller.—The Essentials of Perspective.

With numerous illustrations drawn by the author. By L. W. Miller, principal of the School of Industrial Art of the Pennsylvania Museum, Philadelphia. 1 vol., oblong, 8vo, $1.50

Pratt.—Perspective.

This work includes the projection of shadows and reflections, and is especially prepared for art students; 36 plates. By Robert Pratt, Head Master of the School of Art, Barrow-in-Furness. Price, net (postage 15 cents) $0.90

Trobridge.—Perspective, The Principles of, as Applied to Model Drawing and Sketching from Nature.

By George Trobridge. With 32 plates and other illustrations. Second Edition. Revised and Enlarged. In paper covers, 75c.; cloth $1.25

Ware.—Modern Perspective.

A Treatise upon the Principles and Practice of Plane and Cylindrical Perspective. By William R. Ware, Professor of Architecture in Columbia University, revised edition 1 vol. 12mo. 321 pages, with 27 plates in a portfolio, net price $4.00.

Wright.—A Practical Book on Perspective.

Architectural Perspective for Beginners. By F. A. Wright, Architect. Containing 11 large plates, and full descriptive letterpress. One large quarto (page the size of Building), handsomely bound in cloth. Price $3.00

Electric Bell and Bell Fitting.Allsop, F. C.—Electric Bell Construction.

Treatise on the Construction of Electric Bells, Indicators and Similar apparatus. 177 Illustrations, 12mo, cloth $1.25

— Practical Electrical Bell Fitting.

A Practical Treatise on the Fitting Up and Maintenance of Electric Bells, and All the Necessary Apparatus. Nearly 150 illustrations. 8vo, cloth. London, 1880 $1.25

Badt, F. B.—Bell Hangers' Hand Book.

Just the book for those engaged in selling, installing or handling Electric Batteries, Electric Bells, Elevator, House or Hotel Announciators, Burglar or Fire Alarms, Electric Gas Lighting Apparatus, Electric Heat Regulating Apparatus, etc. Third edition. 97 illustrations. 12mo, cloth. Chicago, 1892. $1.00

Bottone.—Electric Bells and All about Them. Fourth Edition.

Cloth $0.60

Hasluck.—Electric Bells.

How to Make and Fit Them. With Numerous Engravings and Diagrams. Contents: The Electric Current and the Laws that Govern It—Current Conductors used in Electric Bell Work—Wiring for Electric Bells—Elaborated Systems of Wiring; Burglar Alarms—Batteries for Electric Bells—How to Make Electric Bells. By Paul N. Hasluck. Cloth. Price $0.40

Trevet.—Electric Bell Fitting and Electric Gas Lighting Hand-Book.

Giving practical direction for putting up electric bells and wiring electric gas fixtures, etc. Fully up to date. By Edward Trevet. New edition, revised and enlarged. Illustrated. Price $0.60

Electric Dynamos and Motors.Atkinson.—Power Transmitted by Electricity and Applied by the Electric Motor;

Including Electric Railway Construction. By Philip Atkinson, A. M., Ph. D. Second edition, fully revised and new matter added. Illustrated. Third Edition. 12mo, cloth. Price $2.00

Arnold.—Armature Windings of Direct-Current Dynamos.

Extension and application of a general winding rule. Translated from the German by F. B. de Grees. By E. Arnold. Illustrated. Cloth, net $2.00

Bottone.—Electro Motors: How Made and How Used.

A hand-book for amateurs and practical men. By S. R. Bottone. Eighth Edition, 12mo. cloth $0.50

Cox.—Continuous Current Dynamos and Motors.

An Elementary Treatise for Students. By Frank P. Cox, B. S. 271 pages, 83 illustrations $1.00

Crocker & Wheeler.—The Practical Management of Dynamos and Motors.

Fifth Edition (ninth thousand), revised and enlarged. By F. B. Crocker and S. S. Wheeler. With a special chapter by H. A. Foster. 12mo, cloth, illustrated $1.00

Crofts.—How to Make a Dynamo.

A practical treatise for amateurs. Containing numerous illustrations and detailed instructions for constructing a small dynamo to produce the electric light. Second edition, 102 pages. 12mo, cloth $0.75

Flather.—Dynamometers and the Measurement of Power.

A Treatise on the Construction and Application of Dynamometers. With a Description of the Methods and Apparatus Employed in Measuring Water and Electric Power. By J. J. Flather, Professor of Mechanical Engineering in University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn. 113 figures, including half-tones. ix+394 pages. 12mo, cloth $3.00

Halliday, G.—Notes on Design of a Small Dynamo.

Illustrations and Plates of Working Drawings in separate packet. 8vo, cloth. London, 1892. $1.00

Large paper edition, with wide margins. $5.00 This pocket-book is specially bound bookwise to lie open.

Hasluck.—Dynamos and Electric Motors, How to Make and Run Them.

..... $0.40

Hawkins, C. C., and F. Wallis.—The Dynamo; Its Theory, Design and Manufacture.

190 illustrations. Thick 12mo, cloth. London, 1893 $3.00

— Electric Motor and Transmission of Power.

An elementary descriptive treatise on continuous and alternating current motors, including induction motors. 377 pages, 12mo. Price $1.00

— Electro-Dynamic Machinery.

A treatise on the principles of continuous-current dynamos and motors, including full consideration of their windings, of the magnetic circuit, hysteresis, eddy-currents, efficiencies, heating, sparking, torque, regulation, etc. The only mathematics consist of necessary formulas and arithmetical calculations to illustrate principles. An accurately written and easily read treatise on the subject. 331 pages, 232 illus. Price $2.50

Lummis-Paterson.—The Management of Dynamos.

A hand-book of theory and practice for the use of mechanics, engineers, students and others in charge of dynamos, with numerous illustrations. By G. W. Lummis-Paterson.

son, Electrical Engineer. Second edition; revised and enlarged; 12mo.; cloth. Price $1.75
Parkhurst.—Dynamo and Motor Building for Amateurs.

With Working Drawings. By Lieutenant C. D. Parkhurst. Cloth. 163 pages, 71 illustrations. Price.....$1.00

Parkhurst.—Electric Motor Construction for Amateurs.

Cloth$1.00

Prescott.—Dynamo Electricity;

Its Generation, Application, Transmission, Storage and Measurement. With 545 illustrations. 8vo, cloth$5.00

Schellen.—Magneto-Electric and Dynamo-Electric Machines.

Their Construction and Practical Application to Electric Lighting, and the Transmission of Power. Translated by Dr. H. Schellen from the third German edition by N. S. Keith and Percy Neymann, Ph.D. With very large additions and notes relating to American Machines, by N. S. Keith. Vol. 1, with 353 illustrations. Second edition.....$5.00

Sheldon-Mason. — Dynamo-Electrical Machinery: Its Construction, Design and Operation—Direct-Current Machines.

By Samuel Sheldon, assisted by Hobart Mason. Second Edition. 12mo. Price, net $2.50

Sloane.—Electric Toy-Making, Dynamo Building and Electric Motor Construction.

This work treats of the making at home of Electrical Toys, Electrical Apparatus, Motors, Dynamos and Instruments in general, and is designed to bring within the reach of young and old the manufacture of genuine and useful electrical appliances. Very fully illustrated$1.00

Trevert.—Dynamics and Electric Motors and All About Them.

This work gives practical directions for building dynamos and electric motors. Particularly adapted for beginners. Nearly 100 illustrations. Cloth. Price.....50c

Trevert.—How to Build Dynamo-Electric Machinery.

Embracing Theory Designing and Construction of Dynamos and Motors. With appendices on Field Magnet and Armature Winding. Management of Dynamos and Motors. and Useful Tables of Wire Gauges. By Edward Trevert. Illustrated. 8vo, cloth...$2.50 Heating—Glossary of Electrical Terms—Index, etc. By John B. Verity, M. Inst. E. E., Lond. 4th ed. 12 mo, board cover.....$1.00

Urquhart.—Dynamo Construction.

A Practical Handbook for the Use of Engineer, Constructors and Electricians in Charge. By J. W. Urquhart. Illustrated. 12mo$3.00

Wiener.—Practical Calculation of Dynamo-Electric Machines.

Numerous tables of practical data are included. Theory is not discussed and all formulas are in shape for direct application. Requires some knowledge of algebra. 750 pages, 372 illus. Price.....$2.50

Electrical Engineering.

— Electrical Engineering Leaflets.

A course in the principles of electrical engineering, in three grades—elementary, intermediate and advanced—the lessons or leaflets of each grade being comprised in a separate volume. 3 volumes. Each.....$1.50

Joyce.—Examples in Electrical Engineering.

By Samuel Joyce, A. I. E. E., Lecturer to the Senior Class in Electrical Engineering, Municipal Technical School, Manchester. Crown 8vo, 240 pages.....$1.50

Practical Electrical Engineering.

A Complete Treatise on the Construction and Management of Electrical Apparatus as used in Electric Lighting and the Electric Transmission of Power. By men eminent in their respective departments. With many hundreds of illustrations. 2 vols, quarto, cloth. Each $7.50

— Electrical Engineering.

For electric light artisans and students. By W. Slingo and A. Brooker. With 346 illustrations, including 2 Folding Plates. New edition, revised and enlarged. Crown 8vo, 764 pages. Price$3.50

Electric Lighting.

Adams.—Light, Heat and Power in Buildings.

By Alton D. Adams, M. E. One 12mo volume. Cloth. Price.....$1.00

— Practical Electric Light Fitting.

A Treatise on the Wiring and Fitting up of Buildings, Deriving Current from Central Station Mains, and the Laying Down of Private Installations, including the latest Edition of the Phoenix Fire Office Rules. 324 illustrations. 12mo, cloth. London, 1892.....$1.50

Atkinson, Philip.—The Elements of Electric Lighting.

Including Electric Generation, Measurement, Storage and Distribution. Eighth edition, fully revised and new matter added. 104 illustrations, 260 pages. 12mo, cloth. Tenth edition.$1.50

Bell.—The Art of Illumination.

This is the only work in the language which deals directly with the scientific and artistic use of modern illuminants, electricity and others. It is indispensable to Architects and Decorators, as well as those engaged in the manufacture and sale of illuminants. By Louis Bell, Ph. D. 127 illustrations; 339 pages. Cloth. Net.....$2.50

Bottone.—A Guide to Electric Lighting.

For Householders and Amateurs. By S. R. Bottone; Illustrated. 15th thousand, 3d edition$0.75

Crocker.—Electric Lighting.

By Francis B. Crocker, E. M., Ph. D., Professor of Electrical Engineering, Columbia College, New York; Vice-President of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. A Practical Exposition of the Art, for the use of electricians, students and others. 8vo, cloth, 437 pages, Illustrated. Price..$3.00

Electric Lighting.—Vol. II. Distributing System and Lamps.

A practical exposition of the art for use of engineers, students and others interested in the installation of electric plants. By F. E. Crocker. 8vo, cloth. Price.....$3.00

Fleming.—Electric Lamps and Electric Lighting.

Being a Course of Four Lectures delivered at the Royal Institution by Prof. J. A. Fleming. M. A., D. Sc., F. R. S., M. R. I., Professor of Electrical Engineering in University College, London. 8vo, cloth, 228 pages, very fully illustrated. Price$3.00

Gordon.—A Practical Treatise on Electric Lighting.

With 23 full-page plates and numerous illustrations in the text. By J. E. H. Gordon. 8vo, cloth.....$4.50

Guy, Arthur F.—Electric Light and Power.

Giving the result of practical experience in Central-Station Work. 8vo, cloth, Illustrated. London, 1894.....$2.50

Holmes.—The Electric Light Popularly Explained.

By A. Bromley Holmes. Fifth edition. Illustrated. 12mo, paper.....$0.40

— Electric Arc Lighting.

A descriptive elementary work on arc lamps and the principles and practice of arc lighting. 383 pages, 155 illus. Price.....$1.00

Levy, C. L.—Electric Light Primer.

A Simple and Comprehensive Digest of all the most important facts connected with the Running of the Dynamo and Electric Lights, with Precautions for Safety. For the use of persons whose duty it is to look after the plant. Svo, paper. New York, 1887.....50c.

Norrie.—Electric Gas Light.

How to install electric gas lighting apparatus, including the Jump System and Multiple Systems for use in houses, churches, theatres, halls, or any large building. Giving the latest American practice. By H. S. Norrie. 57 illustrations, diagrams and drawings. Cloth. Price.....50c.

Randall.—Practical Treatise on the Incandescent Lamp.

Cloth50c.

Russell.—Electric Light Cables and the Distribution of Electricity.

By Stuart A. Russell, Associate Member of the Institution of Civil Engineers, Member of the Institution of Electrical Engineers. With 110 illustrations. Second edition; revised. 391 pages. Cloth. Price.....$3.00

Stephen.—Wrinkles in Electric Lighting.

By Vincent Stephen. Fourth edition. Contents: The Electric Current and its Production by Chemical Means. Production of Electric Currents by Mechanical Means; Dynamoelectric Machines. Electric Lamps. Leads. Ship Lighting, etc. 45 Pages, 23 Illustrations. 12mo, cloth.....$1.00

Siebert.—Modern Stonecutting and Masonry.

By John S. Siebert, C. E., and Frederick Child Biggin, R. S., Instructor of Architecture in Lehigh University. This volume is interesting, both from its almost solitary position in American architectural literature and from the fact that it represents the new era in the use of stone in building. The work excludes the more intricate problems in stone work, and confines itself more strictly to the questions likely to arise in designing the modern structure. The aim of the authors has been to bring together in brief compass such matters as the architect and engineer will find applicable to modern practice. First edition; one 8vo, cloth. Price.....$2.50

Warren.—Stereotomy; Problems in Stone Cutting.

In four classes—I. Plane-sided Structures. II. Structures containing Developable Surfaces. III. Structures containing Warped Surfaces. IV. Structures containing Double-curved Surfaces. For students of Engineering and Architecture. By Prof. S. Edward Warren. 8vo, cloth $2.50

Strength of Material.

Adams.—Strains in Ironwork.

“HOW TO ILLUSTRATE”

A splendidly illustrated book, completely taking the place of correspondence instruction, for home study in spare moments. In this book no good point of regulation correspondence instruction is omitted, but many revolutionary improvements have been added. The instruction is thorough, practical, complete and unabridged.

BRIEF SUMMARY OF CONTENTS

What materials to use, including papers, canvases and bristol boards.

Tools and how to handle them.

Drawing from nature, including landscape, flowers, animals, figures, portraits, etc.

Drawing from memory, with table showing comparative measurements of different parts of the human body: Head, hands, feet, legs, arms, etc.

Color: Primary and secondary colors, etc., explained. How to mix different shades, etc.

Artistic Anatomy: The bones and muscles as applied to pictorial work.

Lettering: Copying and originating. Roman, block, old English and script styles shown. Elementary historic and geometric ornament.

Conventionalization of flowers, ornamental composition, pictorial composition (including form and color arrangement, and balance), fashion work, caricaturing, cartooning.

Facial expression: Sorrow, joy, pain, anger, fear, contempt, laughter.

Aerial and liner perspective:

Business details: How to sell pictures, how to get a position as an artist, prices and salaries paid, lists of names of publishers and others who buy work, how to pack pictures to send by mail or express, etc., etc.

Appendix with explanations of various engraving and reproductive processes.

Written by Charles Hope Provost, the originator of correspondence art instruction.

Price, - Paper Cover, $1.00. - - - Stiff Board, $1.50.

WEALE'S SCIENTIFIC SERIES.

This Series includes Text-Books on almost every branch of Science and Industry, comprising such subjects as Architecture and Building, Civil Engineering, Fine Arts, Mechanics and Mechanical Engineering, Physical and Chemical Science, and many miscellaneous Treatises. The whole are constantly undergoing revision, and new editions, brought up to the latest discoveries in scientific research, are constantly issued. We carry large stocks, and can furnish nearly all the series on orders. Such as are not in stock can be procured promptly.

“COLONIAL HOUSES”

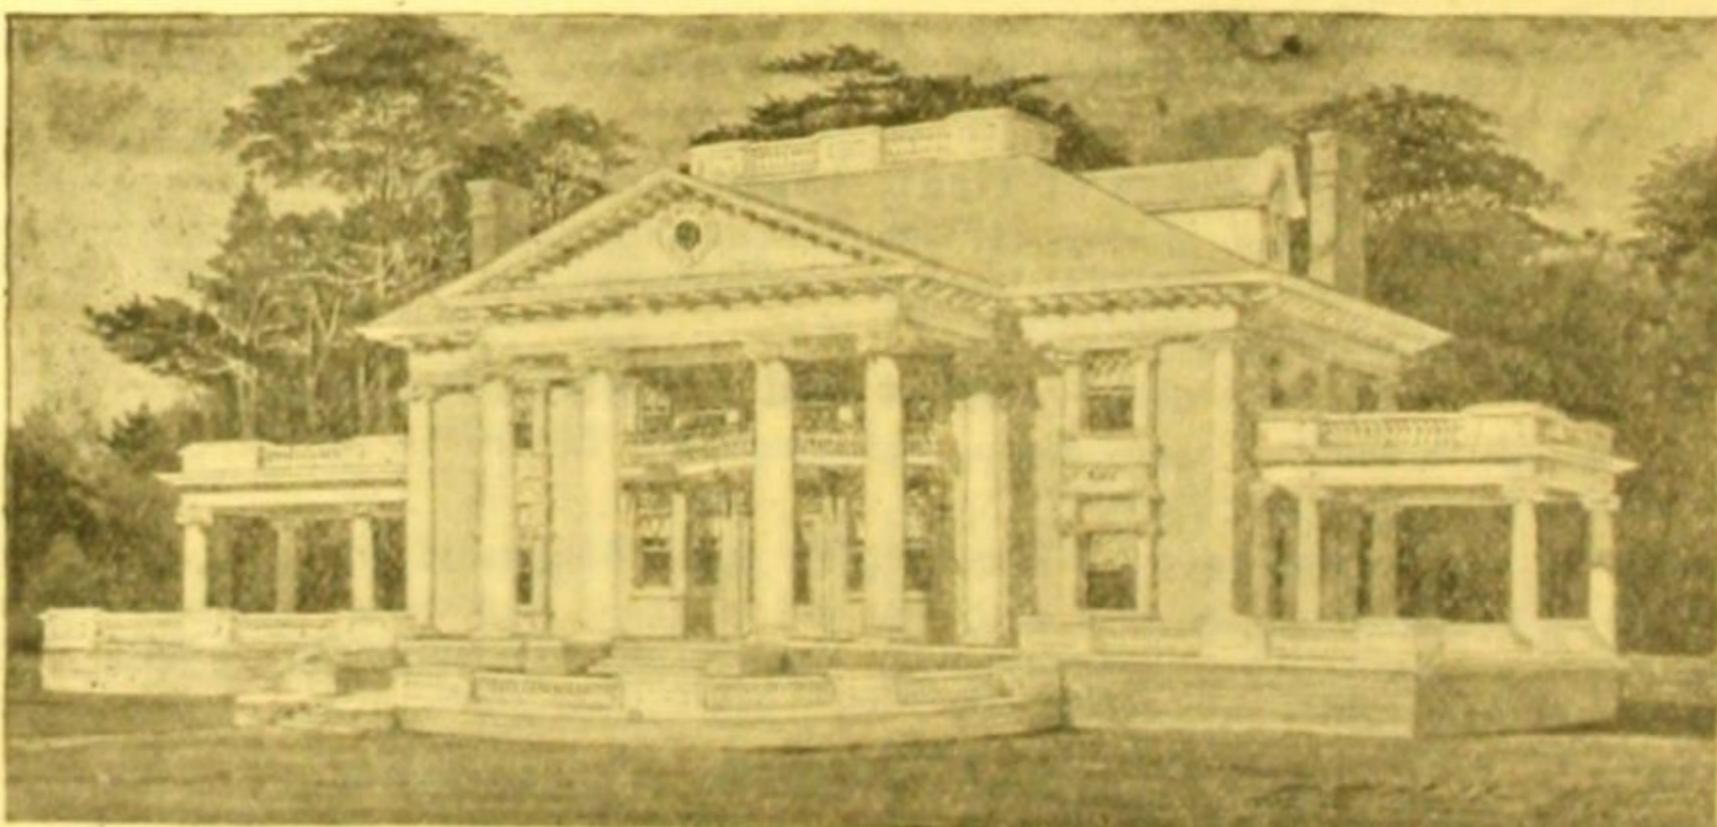

For Modern Homes

A collection of designs of Houses with Colonial (Georgian) details but arranged with modern comforts, and with the completeness of 20th century.

Written and Illustrated
By E. S. CHILD, Architect.

They show large, correctly drawn perspectives, full floor plans, and complete descriptions, with estimates of cost. The designs are new, original, unique, consistent, but not stiff nor constrained. Made, not by an artist, but by an architect. They combine beauty of exterior with complete and convenient interiors, with Kitchens, Laundries, Pantries and Closets carefully and skillfully considered.

If you are at all interested in the subject, you will enjoy this publication.

PERIOD DECORATION.

By CHANDLER R. CLIFFORD.

Illustrated with many original and fac-simile prints of contemporary and historic interest.

One 8vo. vol., cloth. Price, $2.

In these days, when the decorator is so frequently asked by his client to adopt styles of certain periods, as the Empire, the Louis XVI., in his work, it is quite important that he should have some ready reference as to the special characteristics of these styles. To supply these needs is what the author of this little book proposes. He has not attempted to give elaborate descriptions, but to briefly refer to the special features of each, and to give a sufficient number of characteristic illustrations, so that either decorator or owner may act intelligently in selecting or using them.

The author has treated under separate articles of each of the well-known styles, giving its marked features by text and illustrations, together with some well-known examples. He has covered wall decoration, furniture, carving and other features of a decorative character. The book has also a careful index.

LETTERS AND LETTERING.

A treatise, with 200 examples.

By FRANK CHATTEAU BROWN.

One 8vo. vol., cloth. Price, $2.

The author, in preparing it, seems to have had in mind to furnish his reader or the draftsman looking for examples in its pages plain, sensible models rather than elaborate and ornate examples. He has divided his subject into three headings: "Roman Capitals," "Modern Roman Letters," "Gothic Letters" and "Italic and Script." Under these various headings he has given a vast number of examples, supplementing these by descriptive text, explaining his theory of lettering, and giving rules for the guidance of the draftsman. In the examples presented are not only single letters, but combinations of letters in syllables and words, and a great variety of alphabets are shown allowing great opportunities of selection. The last chapter is devoted to suggestions for beginners, in which will be found many useful hints. The book closes with a carefully prepared alphabetical index, making it a handy reference to the designer or draftsman.

A SPECIFICATION REMINDER FOR THE USE OF ARCHITECTS, BUILDERS AND OTHERS.

By WILLIAM H. SAYWARD.

Paper. Price, 50 cents.

This book is a long pocket-book, and it is not proposed as a form of specification, but is, as its name implies, intended as a reminder. Under the different headings, such as "General Conditions," "Excavation," "Piling," are given the various important subjects indicated by a single word or short sentence, such as "Test of Borings and Trial Piles," "Kind of Piles," "Length," etc., the idea being to bring to the mind of the specification writer every subject that should be covered in his specification, and in the order in which each should be treated.

Practical Lessons in Architectural Drawing

Or How to Make the Working Drawings of Buildings

By WM. B. TUTHILL, A. M., Architect.

This edition is entirely re-written, enlarged and brought down to date.

It has passed through ten editions and has been the most extensively used book on architectural drawing ever published in this country.

This edition contains 33 full-page plates (one in colors), and 33 wood-cuts, with full descriptive letter press, showing methods of construction and representation. The work embraces scale drawings of plans, elevations, sections and details of frame, brick and stone buildings, with full descriptions and a form of specifications adapted to the same. Suited to the wants of architectural students, carpenters, builders, and all desirous of acquiring a thorough knowledge of architectural drawing and construction.

CONTENTS.

Chapter I.—Introduction.
Chapter II. — A Small Frame House.
Chapter III.—A Frame Building.
Chapter IV.—A Brick Building.

Chapter V.—A Stone Building.
Chapter VI.—The Specifications.
Chapter VII.—Color.
Chapter VIII.—New York Building Laws.

PRESS NOTICES.

The little book is one of the most serviceable and workmanlike, as it is one of the most creditable ever issued by its publishers.—American Architect and Building News.

It is hard to praise too highly manuals which accomplish their objects so well and so completely as this one.—University Press.

It will undoubtedly fill a gap which has long existed in kindred works.—Engineering News.

Adapted to the requirements of practical men, and containing just the information carpenters, builders and architectural students need.—Painters' Magazine.

Price, $2.50 postpaid.

WALLPAPERS AND WALL COVERINGS

A PRACTICAL HANDBOOK FOR
DECORATORS, PAPERHANGERS, ARCHITECTS, BUILDERS AND

ILLUSTRATIONS SHOWING THE LATEST DESIGNS.

BY ARTHUR SEYMOUR JENNINGS

Editor of "The Decorators," formerly editor of "Oils, Colours and Drysalteries,"
"Painting and Decorating," "Builder and Decorator," etc. Honorary
Consultative Examiner to the City and Guilds of London Institute in Painters' and Decorators' Work.

EXTRACT FROM PREFACE

The author has endeavored to include characteristic designs in vogue today, and to give reliable information as to the choice of wall papers as well as to describe the practical methods of applying them. In dealing with matters concerning decoration, there is always the danger of leaning too much toward an ideal and of overlooking the practical requirements of commercial life. The author hopes that he has been successful in avoiding this fault, and that his book will be regarded as both practical and useful.

ONE LARGE 8vo. VOL.; CLOTH, PRICE 2.00.

Organ-Building The Principles of Planning for Amateurs.

A practical Guide for Home Workers, containing specifications, designs and full instructions for making every portion of the instrument.

This work gives a description of the instrument in every detail, and supplements this instruction, wherever practicable with carefully drawn illustrations.

It gives 15 folding plates, over 200 illustrations and explanatory diagrams. By Mark Wicks.

2d Edition, Cloth, Price $1.50

An Analytical Treatise for the Use of Architects and others; by PERCY L. MARKS, Architect. Illustrated by eighty plans of various types of buildings, chiefly executed by eminent modern architects. One 8vo. vol.; cloth; 126 pp. and 37 full-page plates. Price, $2.50.

This work starts off with the enunciation of a few general principles of planning, but its great merit is the number and variety of plans presented. These include almost every class of building. The plans have been selected with great care from current work of leading architects, thus representing the best modern practice. In discussing the "essential features, accommodations, etc.,," the author takes up and discusses the various kind of buildings and their requirements, giving data as to sizes for special uses.

The various items of detail as to floor space and placing of furniture will often be found to save time to architects in preparing plans, especially for types of buildings to which they are not accustomed.

The whole work covers so broad a field that it cannot fail to be suggestive to even the experienced practitioner.

SPECIFICATIONS

A Practical System for Writing
Specifications for Building . . .

By W. FRANK BOWER.

One vol. 240 pages, 9x12 inches, bound in dark green buckram, lettered in aluminum.

Price, - - - $5.00

This is the first and only work ever published in which it has been attempted to make a complete compilation of specification matter covering, as nearly as could be done, every possible variety of structural work.

The value of well written and systematic, yet simple specifications is too well appreciated to require comment here. This is the only first-class book on the subject.

FURNITURE DESIGNING AND DRAUGHTING

LIGHT, HEAT and POWER in BUILDINGS

By ALTON D. ADAMS, M. E.

One 12mo. vol.; Cloth; Price, $1.00

The purpose of this volume is to present in compact form the main facts on which selection of the source for light, heat and power in buildings should be based. The problem is to determine the kind of equipment that will yield the service required at the least cost.

CONTENTS

Chapter I.—Cost of Heat, Light and Power from Public Gas and Electrical Supply and from Coal.

Chapter II.—Gas, Electricity, Steam and Hot Water in the Distribution of Heat, Light and Power.

Chapter III.—Advantages of the Combined Production of Light, Heat and Power from Steam.

Chapter IV.—Efficiency in Production and Distribution of Heat, Light and Power from Hot Water and Steam.

Chapter V.—General Requirements and Safety of Boilers, Explosive Energy.

Chapter VI.—Boiler Capacity.

Chapter VII.—Combustion of Fuels and Boiler Capacity.

Chapter VIII.—Heating Powers of Fuel.

PRESS NOTICES.

It is a complete manual on the subject.—Plumbers' Trade Journal.

The book deals in a convenient manner with the subjects given in the title.—Domestic Engineering.

The book should have considerable usefulness in the work for which it is designed.—Power.

It will be found a useful and ready reference.—Carpentry and Building.

A feature of special interest in the work is that the arrangement by cost of service from widely different sources are set down side by side.—Scientific American (Builders' Edition).

The author, while dealing with his subject in a masterly manner, does not delve into scientific theories, or so mystify his readers that the ordinary, every-day man cannot understand him.—The National Builder.

As a whole the work will be found quite satisfactory.—Electrical World and Engineer.

"CATHEDRALS OF FRANCE"

A Unique and Beautiful Book.

Popular studies of the most interesting French Cathedrals made during a special visit, by EPIPHANUS WILSON, M. A., author of "Dante Interpreted," etc.

More than Two Hundred Pages More than Two Hundred Illustrations

The book is unusually large ; size 10 x 14 inches, to permit of the best illustrating and to show the noble portions of the cathedrals. The illustrations are from the best photographs obtainable, and the plates are carefully printed on heavy enamelled paper specially manufactured for this book. One-third of the reproductions occupy full pages ; in the number and size of the illustrations, and in the perfection of the reproductions, the book is entirely unique.

The introduction gives a comparative study of the cathedrals architecturally and chronologically and an outline map of France in provinces showing where each cathedral is situated.

The book is bound in red linen with the title in gold and The Arms of the Six Spiritual Peers of France in relief, on the cover.

The Zipkes Uniform Record Books

These books are for the convenience of Architects for the recording of their numerous plans and specifications, prints and copies of the same.

Architects will readily see the advantage of these books if they will consider for a moment how frequently their plans and specifications go astray, and how often, after a contractor has signed a contract in an architect's office, for the erection and equipment of a building, he will claim that he did not receive a certain sheet, belonging to said plans, and that the omission is probably due to the carelessness of the architect's employees. Such claims cannot be substantiated when a "Zipkes Record Book" is used; for in each case the contractor himself signs for what he receives and same is always on record.

The books are arranged and properly bound, consisting of forty-eight pages, which will allow for the recording of twelve separate building operations, four pages being allotted to each building.

One oblong Vol., flexible buckram, price post paid $1.00.

EXTRACT FROM PREFACE

In offering this, the fifth edition of the Architects' Directory, we present it in much larger and more complete form than heretofore, and have added many features of information which we believe will be of value to Architects, Builders and others interested in architectural matters.

We have endeavored as far as possible to indicate the societies to which architects belong, as well as giving a list of architectural associations and their officers.

We also give a list of architectural schools and a list of the periodicals devoted to the profession.

There is also added a specification index, giving the names of most of the prominent firms dealing in building materials and their specialties, classified under their special headings.

Every effort has been made to make the list of architects as complete as possible, giving names and addresses, and in case of firms, the names of the individual members, and while we do not claim absolute accuracy, believe the list will be found more complete and accurate than any that has previously been offered.

Section II.

NINTH REVISED EDITION OF Carpenters and Builders' Assistant and Wood-Workers' Guide,

By L. D. GOULD, Architect and Practical Builder.

CONTAINING THIRTY-SIX PLATES. FULLY DESCRIBED.

Also, Tables of the Strength of Materials, Length of Braces, where the Run is given, and length of Run where the Brace is given, Technical Terms used by Carpenters, etc., etc.

ONE 8vo. VOLUME, BOUND IN CLOTH, PRICE, $2.00.

This work is intended to combine all the knowledge the workman requires to construct any design in carpentry by an easy system of lines, reducing the science of construction to an agreeable and pleasant occupation, rather than an unpleasant task.

MATHEMATICAL DRAWING INSTRUMENTS, AND HOW TO USE THEM.

One Imperial 16mo volume, bound in cloth, containing 152 pages and over 70 illustrations, including 11 different styles of lettering.

By F. EDWARD HULME, Art Master of London, who has for many years been engaged in teaching beginners to become skilled workmen, and now, for the first time, offers his experience to the public.

The work is not only a thorough treatise on the various instruments used in drawing, but includes instructions in regard to Drawing and Tracing Papers, how to trace and how to copy drawings, two or more at one time, and the use and application of color to represent different materials, making in all a valuable work for the experienced draughtsman as well as for the student.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price, $1.50.

FOURTH EDITION—REVISED.

A Practical Book on Perspective.

ARCHITECTURAL PERSPECTIVE FOR BEGINNERS.

By F. A. WRIGHT, Architect.

Containing 11 large Plates and full descriptive letter-press. One large quarto, handsomely bound in cloth. Price $3.00

Many will remember that a series of articles, under this heading, was published some time since in "BUILDING." These articles have been re-written and new plates added, and the whole brought out in book form, and will be found to meet the wants of that large class of students who take up the study without the assistance of a teacher, and who, therefore, need to have it set before them in the simplest and most practical way. The plan is to take practical examples and work them out, with full explanations of each step. Each plate brings in some new principle or emphasizes some new point. After the student is acquainted with the drawing of perspectives, he is given some hints as to the best way of shading them in pen and ink. Sketching in perspective is duly treated. The central idea of the book is to teach the student something of practical value as well as to give him the necessary theoretical training in the principles of perspective. In other words, the student is brought through the same course of practical study that he would pursue if in an architect's office.

House Painting, Graining, Marbling and Sign Writing.

By ELLIS A. DAVIDSON.

Containing full information on the processes of House Painting in Oil and Distemper, the Formation of Letters, and Practice of Sign Writing, the Principles of Decorative Art, a Course of Elementary Drawing for House Painters, Writers, etc., and a Collection of Useful Receipts. With Nine Colored Illustrations of Woods and Marbles, and numerous Wood Engravings.

BITS OF CANTERBURY CATHEDRAL.

Drawn by WALTER TALLANT OWEN.

Mr. Owen exhibits a fine and discriminating taste in his selection of various subjects for his sketches, and shows his ability as a draughtsman to be of a high order. The drawings are well reproduced upon fine paper, and aside from the pleasure to be drawn from a casual inspection, they will be of practical service to those who wish them for a study.

HALLET'S SPECIFICATIONS FOR FRAME HOUSES.

Among the additions will be found a new GLOSSARY OF TERMS, the schedule of Architects' Fees, a Revised form of Contract, &c.

This is a complete and practical work. It has, since the first edition, been before the public for nearly ten years, and we believe it now to be recognized as the GENERAL STANDARD WORK.

It contains in concise form everything necessary to go into a complete and perfect dwelling, making it valuable for all who write specifications; also, for students, amateurs, and all those who contemplate building.

This is the only specification that treats the subject consecutively.

Architects and others who have occasion to write specifications, will find it greatly to their advantage, both in the saving of time and in the greater readiness with which the Mechanic will read them, to use this form as a blank, rather than write out their specifications in the ordinary way.

The Architects' and Builders' Magazine

This Magazine claims to cover the field of Architecture and Building more broadly than any other single periodical devoted to this interest.

Illustrations

While it gives a larger number and greater variety of illustrations than any other journal in the field, it does not feel that the sole province of an Architectural paper is to produce pictures, and devotes much space to articles—artistic, critical and technical—contributed by men of national repute as writers in their various specialties, among whom we may mention such names as Russell Sturgis, F. E. Kidder, Joy Wheeler Dow, Barr Ferree, Alton D. Adams and others. While, as indicated above, careful attention is given to the artistic, literary and technical features of Architectural journalism, yet the practical side has not been forgotten. That Architecture is a working profession and must keep pace with an inventive and progressive age is fully recognized, and to this end, in the department "Industrial Progress," new devices, new materials and new methods are given space for description and illustration. Under this head the Advertising Column should be referred to, which will be found fuller and more complete than is that of any other Architectural periodical. A recognition on the part of the business community of its value as a medium for reaching and keeping in touch with both the architect and builder.

WHAT THEY SAY OF Architects' and Builders' Magazine.

From Cumulative Index :

The new number of the Architects' and Builders' Magazine has a new cover and new type. The page has been enlarged so as to bring out the illustrations to better advantage, and graceful headings designate the different departments. Fred. T. Hodgson is the author of a series on "Bricks and Brickwork," soon to appear. Other series forthcoming are "Fireplaces and Chimneys," by G. Curtis Gillepsie; "Distribution of Hot Water," by Alton D. Adams; "Distribution of Air," by Alton D. Adams; "In Streets and Papers," a department conducted by Barr Ferree.

Editor "Architects' and Builders' Magazine:"

The "New Departure" made in the Architects' and Builders' Magazine is in the right direction, as the increased size of the pages enables you to show up the illustrations to better advantage, giving them a truly artistic and pleasing appearance. Indeed, the Magazine, as presented under the new arrangement, is all that could be desired; it is at once instructively artistic, and a conserver of the best current work of American architects. It deserves the success it is surely attaining.

Editor "Architects' and Builders' Magazine:"

We think you will be interested to know that through our advertisement in your paper, we are in receipt of an inquiry from Mr. Y. Hirrano, Mitsui Bussan Kaisha, Shanghai, requesting us to furnish him with samples and prices of our Paragon Metal Weather Strip.

This not only shows the value of advertising in your paper, but also convinces us that the merits of our strip is appreciated and known in the Far East.
